Work is Accomplished.

The chief of the secret service division is informed of the arrest of Wm. C. Casey of Altona, Pa., in New York city Friday evenir.; Casey is said to be one of a band of smuggiers who have been very successful in taking Chinamen across the border into New York and Vermont. The Chinese companies, of which there are several in New York, and three or four in Boston, take the Chinamen as far as the Canadian border. They contract with their friends to do this, but there their contract ends, and the Chinamen must find their own way of getting into the states. and the Chinamen must find their own way of getting into the states. Many porsons living in the small towns along the Canadian border, it is said, make large sums by guiding the arrivals over the line and to the nearest city. The charge is generally $125 to $150 each, and parties of eight and ten are frequently taken across at night and successfully started on their journey toward New York or Boston, where most of the Chinamen smuggled in the east eventually settle.

Burlington are looked upon as landing stations for the smuggled Chinamen, and when the treasury agents at these points become too watchful a change is made, and Rouse's Point and Plattsburg are chosen as the most available. When Plattsburg is chosen the Chinamen are taken in boats twenty-flive miles down Lake Champilain and are landed at some out of the way point. Not infrequently the boats containing the Chinamen meet with disaaster, and the loss of many Chinamen has been recorded while making the voyage.

The Chinamen has been recorded while making the voyage.

The Chinamen complete which contract of the chinamen meet with disaaster, and the loss of many Chinamen who here not chinamen and the many the contract of the chinamen and the work of the chinamen and the lookout. Arrests for the offense are frequent, and in the winter of 1814 a half dozen special treasury agents visited Mott. Pell and Doyers streets, New York, and made wholesale arrests of Chinamen who were engaged in the business of smuggling their countrymen into this country through agents who were at the border. It is always to be a street of the contract who were at the border. It is always to be a supplied to the contract of the treasury agents than the smugglers themselves, who, when they find that one point on the border is protected, hasten to another and distant point, where the smuggling goes on with but slight interruption.

They are mach shorter this season than last. I was also shown lovely Black Silk Capes, richly jetted and findleds with rows of silk quilling. There was also a lovely Crepon Cape, richly garnished with jet. The debutantes will find a hundred or more delicate shades of tan and brown capes, richly appliqued and embroidered; one was entirely covered with sequins. Ladies who prefer Black Cloth Capes will find nearly two hundred from which to choose. The New Silk Walsts are the most fetching ever originated. LECTURE TRIP OVERLAND

The Journey From Atlantic to Pacific Embraced.

COURSE BEGUN YESTERDAY

The National Geographic Society set ou sterday on its proposed excursion by way the lecture platform from Washington San Francisco and back. The excursion yesterday on its proposed excursion by way of the lecture platform from Washington to San Francisco and back. The excursion includes upward of 250 Washington people, many of whom are well known in scientific, official and social circles. The tickets are elaborate affairs, with seven coupons, the first of which was taken up yesterday on the occasion of the half-hour lectures by Dr. David T. Day and Mr. G. K. Gilbert of the geological survey, the former having as his topic "Across the Appalachians" and the latter "A Side Trip to Niagara Falla." The lectures are delivered in the hall of Columbian University Mondays and Fridays, beginning at 4:15 p.m. The second coupon calls for a lecture from Prof. Edward Orton on the journey from Pittsburg to St. Paul, and by Mr. Walter Weed on the region from St. Paul to Yellowstone Park. The third coupon is made to cover the distance from the park to Sacramento, Mr. E. T. Perkins describing the trip down the distance from the park to Sacramento, Mr. E. T. Perkins describing the trip down the Columbia, Mt. Rainier and Portland, Ore, and Mr. J. S. Diller the journey from Portland, including Crater lake and Mt. Shasta, to the city of Sacramento. The fourth coupon embraces a description of Sacramento, the Golden Gate, Yosemite and San Bernardino, by Mr. Arthur P. Davis, and the region from San Bernardino across the deserts to San Francisco mountain, Arizona, by Major Powell. The fifth coupon, Monday, April 1, is given up to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado and Sonors, Mexico, by Messrs. Charles D. Walcott and W. J. McGee. Over the Mountains.

W. J. Mctee.

The sixth covers the trip across the Rocky mountains, by Prof. A. H. Thompson and Mr. F. H. Cushing. The seventh entitles the holder to a comprehensive idea of the country between Denver and the Potomac, Mr. F. H. Newell describing the trip from Denver to Pueblo, down the Arkansas river and across the plains to St. Louis, and Major Jed Hotchkiss the litherary from St. Louis to Washington, through the coal fields, through the farms and over the mountains of the old dominion, with side glimpses of the famous caves of Kentucky and Virginia. For in this novel and intesting corners was given yesterday afternoon at the Columbian University Hall by Dr. David T. Day on the journey from Washington to Pittsburg. The lecture spoke in part as follows:

is really a valley system, across which the road runs to the western edge of the Alliegheny mountains, for the central portion of the Appalachian mountains, which should be a crest, is here a valley, with the Blue Ridge for an eastern margin, and the Alliegheny front as the western side. The region between has, as we know, by lateral prediction of the system as we know, by lateral prediction of the system. As we know, by lateral prediction of the system. As we look back it extends for twenty miles or more in a straight, unbroken ridge of singularly evan height, Infact, it looks like some old wall or railroad embankment recaptured by nature, by its demse green covering. Of such mountains as these we will see no more until we return to the Appalachian. Elsewhere our mountains will be krand and vaged peaks, with their foliage, which changes, not only with the effects of the frost in the fall, but even more beautifully from light to dark green, with the clouds passing overhead. It is this feature, together with the blue juniate on the left, which has changed the fashion of car building and evolved observation cars. We must think as we see these ridges that their geological structure is not only interesting for its scenic attractions, but thes Nedlina sandstones whose these ridges that their geological structure is not only interesting for its scenic attractions, but the Nedlina sandstones whose these ridges that their geological structure is not only interesting for its scenic attractions, but the Nedlina sandstones whose these ridges that their geological structure is not only interesting for its scenic attractions, but the Nedlina sandstones whose these ridges that their geological structure is not only interesting for its scenic attractions, but the Nedlina sandstones whose these ridges that their geological structure is not only interesting for its scenic attractions, but the Nedlina sandstones whose structures are provided to the same ready to the series of well-developed thrifty towns and populated valleys; t

In the short time we have left it is impossible to do more than call your attention to the fact that here two long ridges of mountains, running, as usual, northeast and southwest, curve around at the ends of the ridges, making a loop of hard sandstone. Inside of this spoon-shaped rim the coal has been protected from erosion. The beds are thirty feet thick, admitting of mining on an ercrmous scale, have developed some of the finest mining machinery in the world.

Johnstown Renched.

Johnstown Renched.

Johnstown Renched.

"Every one knows how the road follows down the velley of the Conemaugh, a stream so memorably susceptible to mountain floods, and which, with the bursting of a dam on one of its tributaries just above Johnstown, devastated that city. It is difficult to find traces of that flood now, for the Cambria Iron Company at this place is so large as to effect the immediate rebuilding of the town. This Johnstown and its great Cambria Iron works seem well-located, for all along the hillisides of this Conemaugh valley small openings are seen with a 'coal plane' leading down to the rathroad. These are the scarcely visible entrances to the great bituminous coal beds under our track. Dimestone is plentiful, and not long ago the localizon ores were imported, but now the ores of Lake Superior are brought here to be pade chiefly into steel rails. As we go on down toward Pittsburg the industries increase with every mile. To the left is the Connollsville coke district, where more coke is made than in all the rest of the United States. THREE FAVORITES WON.

The opening day at the St. Asaph track yesterday was, despite a terribly slow and heavy track, quite a success. The condition of the track had caused rather small fields, but the racing on the whole was fairly interesting, the finishes in the first three events being close, the others being won with lengths to spare. Father Daiy celebrated his reinstatement by winning the first two races with Factotum and Golden Gate, at 8 and 6 to 1. respectively. Golden Gate, at 8 and 6 to 1, respectively. The Vigiliant to Be Brought Back for a Pace Maker.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 19.—Mr. George J. Gould, who has been duck hunting in Maryland, returns to New York today. Speaking of the cup defender, he said: "I think this boat will be the greatest that can be built. She will, I think, be several minutes faster than the Vigilant. I do not know, but I think it probable that Capt. Hank Haff will be the captain of the new boat. Last Tuesday Capt. Charles Barr sailed with a crew from New York to Southampton, England, to bring the Vigilant to New York. I expect them back with the boat early in May.

"I am not bringing the Vigilant here with any idea that she can beat the new cup defender; on the contrary, I am virtually sure she cannot, but I expect to prove her a worthy trial boat, so that a line may be gotten on the merits of the cup defender.

"If such an unexpected thing should octher is only the slightest possibility of the new boat being a failure."

In conclusion, Mr. Gould said: "I think this will be the greatest season's yachting this country has ever known."

Expressions of satisfaction having been made by the Italian government at the steps taken by the Colorado authorides for the apprehension of the murderers of the Italians at Walsenberg, the diplomatic incident occasioned thereby is regarded here as closed for the present at least. That satisfaction exists is shown by the telegram that was sent by Assistant Secretary of State Unit of Gov. McIntyre of Colorado. In this telegram Mr. Uhl set forth the expression of appreciation manifested on the part of Baron Fava, the Italian ambassador here, and of his government and of the federal government, at the energetic efforts made by the executive of Colorado to arrest the guilty parties. The assistant secretary received a reply from Gov. McIntyre yesterday, in which that official said that the district attorney assured him the governor) that he would use every of those who were guilty.
